

Florida Is Going to Remedy Those Road Signs in Pensacola

Ever since writing that piece pointing to the State of Florida over a bad set of road signs which got me lost three times in Pensacola I have been kidded by friends who say it is impossible to get lost in Pensacola.

Nevertheless, following U. S. 90 into Pensacola and meaning to catch U. S. 98 to Panama City I repeatedly missed the junction -- which comes up at you fast when traffic is heavy.

On September 19 I unburdened myself in a letter to the Florida State Highway Department -- only the folks in Tallahassee call it the State Road Department of Florida. Today I received this reply:

"In traveling east you probably made the mistake of turning south on Palafox when you got to Pensacola, whereas U. S. 98 joins U. S. 90 about four blocks east of Palafox and the junction is properly marked. However, to aid the traveling public we are issuing instructions to use joint signing for U. S. 98 and U. S. 90 between Palafox and Alcaniz streets."

The letter is from Sam P. Turnbull, state highway engineer, by H. H. McCallum, assistant -- and I thank both of them.

You get the significance of that phrase "joint signing." It means that both U. S. 90 and U. S. 98 markers will be shown on the eastern side of Palafox for several blocks before the tourist reaches the actual intersection where 98 takes off for Panama City.

I'm not crankily torturing a technicality in this matter. The fact is, highway markers enable the experienced tourist to drive almost anywhere in America with only an occasional glance at a road map. The highway marker is, the greatest invention of the automotive world -- therefore it should be infallible.

Florida has famous roads, and an excellent system of road markers -- but the Pensacola business should be corrected; and now it will be.

October 6 to Start Boy Scout Drive

The Caddo Area Council, Boy Scouts of America, will launch its 1953 Finance Campaign Oct. 6, with a goal of $30,213.21 for the year of 1953. Ray Turner, District Finance Chairman of the Piney Woods District announced that this year is the first year that the Council is conducting a simultaneous campaign. Heretofore the communities have launched their drives during the same month but were not co-ordinated to the extent that they began at the same time and end at the same time.

The Council budget and campaign policies were established at a Council-wide finance meeting held at Camp Pioneer during June. Mr. Turner, District Chairman Donald Nunn and other Scouters of this District, were present at the finance meeting.

An example of how a Local Council is of direct benefit to all its communities is represented in the Camping program where the Council maintains two Council Camps at a cost of $5,000 to $6,000 annually. The present appraised value of this property is about $150,000. Another example is the maintenance of an office to maintain records and awards of all Cub Scouts, Boy Scouts and Explorers. Training courses and field service are also made available to all Units and their leaders. These are but a few of the things that are made available to the many communities with the nine counties that make up the Caddo Area Council.

No one of the communities could carry on this fine Scout work alone. That is the reasoning behind the One Council-One Campaign idea that the Council becomes simply a clearing house to pay the bills for all of our Scouting program.

Indian Guards Kill Anti-Red Prisoner

By MILO FARNETI

PANMUNJOM (AP)—Indian guards killed one anti-Communist war prisoner and wounded six others today in breaking up a screaming, rock-throwing demonstration in a compound and hospital in the demilitarized zone, the U. N. Command said tonight.

An Indian spokesman acknowledged that there had been a disturbance and said some Indian soldiers were hurt. The spokesman said he could not confirm that one prisoner was killed and six injured.

An Allied spokesman said the demonstration began in a hospital as Polish and Czech members of the repatriation commission made an inspection tour.

About 500 anti-Communist Korean prisoners in a compound adjacent to the hospital began climbing over the fence and throwing rocks, the spokesman said. He added that Indian troops then moved in and broke up the demonstration with guns and clubs.

"They killed one prisoner and wounded five others," he said.

A sixth prisoner was wounded later, so seriously that he may die, when the demonstration presumably broke out again, he reported.

The U. N. Command refused to say where it obtained its information but the spokesman said the report "is reliable."

The demonstration was the second by anti-Communist prisoners within a week. Chinese POWs seized an Indian major and held him hostage 1½ hours last Friday to protest the return of a Chinese captive to the Communists.

Dallas Posse Seeks Negro Sex Slayer

DALLAS, Tex. (AP)—Hundreds of Dallas residents, angered by a series of attacks on white women by a nude Negro prowler, formed a vigilante posse today and searched for the killer of a young mother.

The slaying last night of Mrs. H. C. Parker, 29-year-old dress store clerk, climaxed a series of beatings and rapes upon white women by a prowler who had terrified Dallas women for months. Police said the pretty woman was literally "cut to pieces."

Reinforced, beefed-up police patrols thrown into the crowded business and residential area near Reverchon Park and Lemmon avenue in north Dallas searched in vain for the terrorist. Police Chief Carl Hanson warned angry citizens to be careful of their aim. He said he feared innocent persons would be injured and killed.

Women slept with lights on and rifles by their beds. Husbands dug out six-shooters and Army weapons out of trunks and closets. Bird guns were loaded with buckshot.

Family May Have Heard From Kidnapers

By AL DOPKING

KANSAS CITY (AP)—Renewed activity at the home of the wealthy parents of 6-year-old Bobby Greenleaf gave rise today to the possibility of a ransom by his kidnapers after a puzzling day of silence.

The activity began after dusk, following a day in which no one was seen to leave or enter the big home on Kansas City's fashionable South Side.

Several cars were seen to come and go at the home after dark. But even as this activity developed the family and police tightened their silence.

In some callings, say you are an undertaker's assistant, for example, this theory works out very well. In an hour you can solve the whole problem for a lifetime.

Two Youths Suffocate in Icebox

WINDSOR, Ont. (AP)—Two four-year-old boys suffocated in an abandoned icebox despite the frantic efforts of a little dog to save them.

The bodies of Andrew Stachan, and Harold Conney were found, stuffed in the old box in a neighbor's shed last night after a four-hour search.

Their deaths came on the heels of 13 similar fatalities among children in the United States in the last three months.

Army Rejects Mothers Plea to See Sons

WASHINGTON (AP)—The Army has turned down a plan to let the mothers of 23 "progressive" American prisoners go to Korea to try to talk their sons out of staying with their Communist captors.

"It is considered neither practical nor advisable that they go to Korea," the Army said in a statement last night. It pointed out that there are certain "problems" which it feels makes such a program impossible to carry out.

The California executive committee of the American Legion appealed to President Eisenhower Sunday to authorize the mothers to personally visit with their sons and discuss their repatriation of American citizenship.

In rejecting the plan, the Army said it has "the deepest sympathy and shares in the distress felt by the families of these men and fully understands their desire to persuade their sons and husbands to return to the United States."

The Army noted that the men are in the custody of the neutral nations repatriation commission and not under the direct control of the United Nations command.

It also recalled that under the terms of the Korean armistice agreement the membership of "explainer teams" which are permitted to talk to prisoners is limited to seven men per 1,000 prisoners.

While barring the mothers from going to Korea, the Army said it will try to deliver "several communications" already received for some of the prisoners.

Declines to Probe Dierks Bank Case

LITTLE ROCK (UP)—Atty. Gen. Tom Gentry refused today to investigate the alleged $170,000 embezzlement at the bank of Dierks, and referred the case to Prosecuting Attorney R. Coker Thomas at Ashdown.

Gentry took the action following a motion for dismissal of the remaining two federal charges against Thomas F. Westbrook, 73, former vice president and cashier, and Mrs. Opal Stimmington, 50, assistant cashier of the bank. The motion was filed by U.S. Dist. Atty. Charles Atkinson for dismissal of indictments returned by a federal grand jury at Fort Smith. Atkinson said that the indictments were defectively drawn and that many allegations made in them did not constitute an offense against the government.

Atkinson then requested Gentry to conduct an investigation into the case. Atkinson said he did not have enough time to make a full-scale probe himself.

Injunction Not Possible Before Next Monday

By ROBERT ZIMMERMAN

NEW YORK (UP)—President Eisenhower called forth the Taft-Hartley act today in a move to put an end to a crippling East Coast longshoremen's strike and union leaders promised to get the men back to work.

However, the leaders said the walkout would continue until the government has obtained a court injunction under the act.

It appeared such an injunction could not be obtained until Monday at the earliest.

Meanwhile, the 65,000 striking stevedores in East coast ports from Maine to Virginia would remain off the job.

The strike of 65,000 dock wall-pers began at midnight and shut down East coast ports from Maine to Virginia.

By RAY KOHN

NEW YORK (AP)—East Coast longshoremen struck early today, threatening a costly stoppage complicated by threats of interunion violence.

President Eisenhower—appealed to yesterday to keep some 60,000 longshoremen on the job from Portland, Maine, to Hampton Roads, Va.—said the Labor Department was studying use of the Taft-Hartley injunction to nip the strike and provide an 80-day cooling-off period.

A White House pronouncement on the situation was expected today.

Last night on the vast New York waterfront, longshoremen worked at fever pitch to get several dozen ships loaded and out of the world's largest port before the strike deadline of midnight.

Cargo for American armed forces abroad will not be affected. The strike was ordered by the International Longshoremen's Assn. (ILA), locked in a contract dispute with the New York Ship- ping Assn. and facing an all-out struggle with a new ILA union backed by the AFL (ILA-AFL).

The AFL ousted the now independent ILA for failing to get rid of deep-rooted racket elements.

A strike along the North Atlantic Seaboard means an estimated loss of 1½ million dollars daily, and directly and indirectly will affect 800,000 workers holding jobs in the New York area alone.

In 1951, a wildcat ILA strike crippled shipping for 26 days and tied up billions of dollars' worth of cargo.

The new walkout involves 12 Eastern Seaboard cities: New York; Portland; Boston; Providence; R. I.; New London, Conn.; Haven and Bridgeport, Conn.; Wilmington, Del.; Philadelphia and Chester, Pa.; Baltimore and Hampton Roads, Va.

Patrick J. Connolly, ILA executive vice president, said yesterday that ILA locals in South Atlantic ports from Cape Hatteras to Tampa, Fla., had pledged not to unload any cargoes diverted from the struck northernmost ports.

However, the port of Halifax, N.S.—outside the strike area—prepared to handle diverted shipping. Longshore officials there said cargoes would be handled as required by their contract.

The ILA flood on its demand for a 13-cent an hour wage increase. The association offered 8½ cents. The current basic longshore wage is $2.27 an hour.

Tugboat operators in New York announced they would respect ILA picket lines.

Special police details patrolled the docks throughout the night and today.

A tidal bore is a form of flood in which sea water enters a river with a wide mouth and quickly narrowing channel to build a moving wall of sea water often dangerous to shipping.

dozens of calls each night even before Mrs. Parker was killed. Chief Hanson had put dozens of extra police on duty hunting the prowler who has terrified women in several parts of the city.

Mrs. Parker was the wife of a tubercular patient who has been hospitalized for three years. They have a 4-year-old son.

Mrs. Parker gave scant details of the attack before she died en route to a hospital.

She had finished work at 9 p. m. at a dime store in the Walnut Hills shopping center not far from the Dallas municipal airport. While she was waiting for her bus, she told police, a Negro grabbed her and forced her under a bridge.

There he attacked and repeatedly slashed her. She dragged herself up the embankment to the street, where she collapsed. A passing motorist found her took her to the airport and called the police.

Officers W. M. McGee and J. W. Gallagher said Mrs. Parker described her assailant as a stocky Negro dressed in a white T-shirt and khaki trousers. Hospital attendants confirmed that she was raped.

The solution in this case is to try to get your employer to hire her instead of you. Then you can stay at home and dream up new ways to make her more efficient, at your old job.

Publisher Settles Income Tax Problem

LITTLE ROCK, Mo.—A revenue department official said yesterday that last month's newspaper published by Donald Reynolds has settled its income tax delinquencies once and for all.

G. F. Ward, attorney for the state department of revenue, said Reynolds had purchased his former wife's stock in the two dailies, the Post-Southwest American and Times Record, which he owned.

Ward said state law prohibits disclosure of the amount of tax and penalties paid.

In an Arkansas Supreme Court suit dismissed yesterday, the total the revenue department sought to collect was listed at more than $30,000.

The suit sought to establish whether Reynolds or his wife was liable for the taxes.

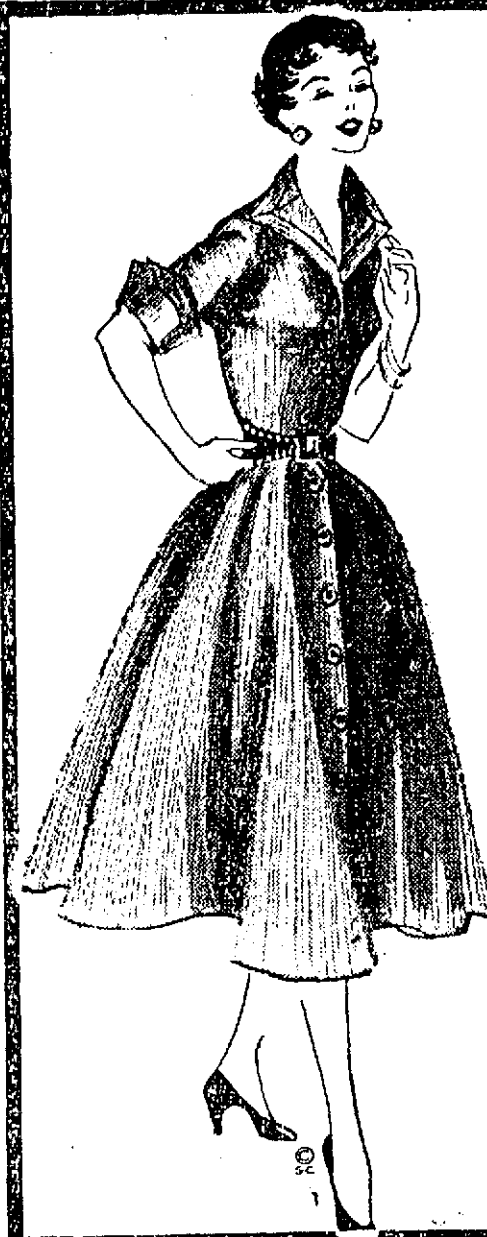

Reynolds, a partner at the Post-Southwest American, attended the annual convention of counselors at Little Rock during the weekend.

Fist Fighting Seems to Be Official's Fad

By The Associated Press

Two separate fist fights on the lawn of the Faulkner County court house were the latest in a rash of fistfights involving public officials in Arkansas during the past week.

At Pine Bluff, the mayor and a newspaper reporter tangled Monday and last Friday a State Highway Department employee and a contractor clashed.

Involved in Monday's bumpy break at Conway, Sheriff Joe Castleberry said, were State Rep. Ralph B. Harrell, his son, Royce; Ben McCulloch; and John Purdie, a Conway lawyer and former state representative.

Castleberry broke up the fight and said no charges were filed. He said the battles grew out of a Chahery Court suit involving proceeds of a 1942 soybean crop.

Claude Dyeus had sued Harrell, claiming he received a share of 10 acres when he was entitled to a share of 23 acres. Chancellor George O. Patterson ruled the was not enough testimony to show there was a contract between the men.

The fights started after Harrell and McCulloch, who had testified against Dyeus, began arguing outside the court. Castleberry said.

The Arkansas Highway Commission was petitioned yesterday to hold a public hearing on an altercation between Mayor Jerry Serection of Hazen and Gilbert Smith of Mt. Ida.

Lawyers for Bucton Construction Co., of which Serection is co-owner, asked the commission to hold a public hearing at Mt. Ida on circumstances surrounding the fight.

In a letter to the commission lawyers also asked that the commission re-instate Bucton's contract on the project. The highway department stopped work on the job after the fight.

The letter said that if the hearing at Mt. Ida is denied, litigation would be started.

Highway Commission Chairman Raymond Orr at El Smith said he had no comment to make on the letter because he had not received a copy of it. He said he did not believe the commission would take up the Serection-Smith matter when it meets at Fort Smith today. He said the commission should wait until it has all of the facts before it acts.

At Pine Bluff, Mayor George Sted and Jimmy Atkinson of the Pine Bluff Commercial came to blows at the police station. The fight started when the Mayor told Atkinson to leave the desk serving grant's cage, and the reporter refused. Police Chief Met Gallagher separated the pair.

U. S. Probers Say Meat Price Normal

By OVID A. MARTIN

WASHINGTON (AP) — Officials of the Department of Agriculture, which is investigating meat prices, announced today that the price of meat is normal.

They said a substantial spread between the two prices is normal, although lack of understanding of meat processing may make it look excessive.

Secretary of Agriculture Benson's announcement of an investigation last week specified that the department was trying to find out whether there had been a "hidden" price for the spread. And he directed attention especially to "variations in the lower grades and qualities of meat."

Complaints about the price spread apparently were coming from livestock producers as well as consumers.

Farm officials, discussing in an interview the markups on meat, took as an example a beef animal selling for 25 cents a pound while retail prices of steak were 50 cents a pound.

A steer is not all steak or roasts, the ribs and loin of a beef carcass, which yield the preferred tender cuts, make up only about 15 per cent of the live weight of the animal.

On the average, a 1,000-pound steer will dress out only about 300 pounds of meat. Of this amount only about 150 pounds will be choice steaks and roasts. The remainder of the carcass will be processed into less desirable roasts, ground beef, boiling or stew meat, soup bones, and inedible products, such as fertilizer.

Officials explained that a slaughterer who paid 25 cents a pound for a live animal would have an investment of about 50 cents a pound for a live animal would have an investment of about 50 cents a pound in the meat obtainable from it.

To this cost, he would have to add margins to cover expenses of slaughtering, aging and other processing and merchandising operations, as well as for profit.

There must be further additions to cover transportation to wholesaling and retailing outlets. The retailer must add margins to cover the costs of cutting and selling the beef as well as losses suffered from normal shrinkage in weight and fat trimmings.

CURSED TO DEATH

JONESBORO (AP) — James G. Williams, 62-year-old farmer, was crushed to death near Dryden yesterday when the tractor he was driving overturned on him while he was working on a rice dike. The accident occurred on the Will Riggs' rice farm near Williams' home, about 15 miles from here.

Clay tiles in blue and white were used extensively in 17th century Mexico to decorate the living quarters and religious rooms of convents.

Arkansan Named Kiwanis Official

ST. JOSEPH, Mo. (AP) — Charles Corbin of Fort Smith was elected district treasurer of the Missouri-Kansas district of Kiwanis International at the final convention session here yesterday.

C. J. Chaffee of Raytown, Mo., was named governor.

District lieutenant governors included:

District 10 — JoMcKinn, Springfield, Ark.

District 11 — William Arnold, Batesville, Ark.

District 12 — A. E. Caldwell, Dell, Ark.

District 13 — Ralph Kyle, Elaine, Ark.

District 14 — James Nunn, Camden, Ark.

Berlin to Continue to Fight Communism

By TOM REEDY

BERLIN — Doughty West Berlin pledged today to keep clear of the first of resistance to communism as a lasting monument to its dead last mayor, Ernst Reuter.

Reuter's sudden death last night spread momentary dismay, quickly followed by a swell of new determination and pride in Berlin's role in the cold war.

Christian Democrats who battled Reuter's Socialist policies declared in their party newspaper:

"Parting from Ernst Reuter, we emphasize our determination to continue fighting with all our strength for the great aim for which he sacrificed himself. The next day we achieve unity and freedom for Berlin and Germany. His name will be quoted as the man who helped us to reach this goal."

Germanians of all walks were convinced Reuter's abrupt passing came from his zealous day-and-night work to preserve West Berlin's freedom and someday see his nation unified.
